RESORT PROFILE

Location:

- Located on 3,000 mountain acres in the Laurel Highlands (Allegheny Mountains) of Southwestern Pennsylvania – just 70 miles from Pittsburgh.
- Within 15 minutes of Ohiopyle State Park – offering some of the best white-water rafting and kayaking east of the Mississippi River; two Frank Lloyd Wright homes – Fallingwater and Kentuck Knob; Fort Necessity Battlefield – French & Indian War site.

Accommodations:

- Three Hotels plus town homes and private homes – 335 rooms total
  - Falling Rock – Nemacolin’s AAA Five Diamond hotel, Falling Rock is the epitome of luxury. With a design inspired by legendary American architect Frank Lloyd Wright, the 42-room boutique hotel includes four suites, 24-hour butler service for all rooms and a 10-option Pillow Menu. Each room features marble baths with a 200-gallon soaking tub and stand-alone European-style showers.
  - Chateau Lafayette – Modeled after the famed Ritz Paris, the Chateau Lafayette is a tribute to the grand hotels of Europe. The spacious rooms and suites feature vaulted ceilings with crown molding, crystal chandeliers, and marble baths with jetted soaking tubs (most rooms have separate marble shower). Butler service is included on the fifth floor Club Level.
  - The Lodge – Original to the resort, The Lodge is an English Tudor style hotel with room décor reminiscent of a comfortable English country inn.
